WALL STREET RELIEVED OF THREATENED DANGER.

OF SAVINGS BANKS. Wall Street's markets opened yesterday under w of dread of an important failure. In suspension which was threatened is believed Central Construction and New-York Illuminating Company. But the principal cause of embarrassment was reported to be the firm's extensive commitments in various municipal and county hands. The monetary stringency has rendered many securities of this sort practically unmarketable. The bilities of the firm are said to amount to some $7,000,000. It is understood, however, that the house succeeded in arranging for the protection of its loans through a syndicate of powerful foreign bankers, so that it will continue in business and liquidation will be deferred until the market for outside securities enjoys improvement. The actual olvency of the firm was assured by its assets, but e condition of the money market threatened some its loans if assistance had not been furnished. It was also commonly understood in Wall Street that another firm, whose loans were threatening it, had been protected by important private banking

The averting of the failures which Wall Street had dreaded, it is thought by bankers, may have a seneficial influence on the money market. Nervous-ness of lenders may be aliayed and the danger of severe pressure on other concerns lessened. But esterday's rates for call money were 6 per cent. nd only after the main demand had been satisfied the quotations fall to lower figures. The feeling of relief in financial circles may have favorably influenced the currency situation, which showed signs of relaxation. The demand for currency was eported by money-brokers to be as brisk as ever, at there was an increasing supply. Some brokers firm, however, reported quotations at 11/2 per cent for currency and 15-2112 per cent for spot gold. Bank officers who sold currency on orders from out-of-town correspondents said that it had difficult to secure 1 per cent premium for everal days. Zimmerman & Forshay said that he premium on gold had virtually disappeared. hey cited as an instance of the easing in conitions the fact that they had contracted to bring 50,000 currency from Chicago at 12 per cent prenium. Two weeks ago the firm was sending curto Chicago at a premium of 314 per cent. reason assigned for the disappearance of the recent importations, which on arrival some of the recent importations, which on arrival had found that the increased supply showed a lessened necessity for the precious metal. Competing offers to sell these speculative importations depressed the premium out of sight.

One influence which gave a big fillip to the close of the stock market was the rumor that the savings banks had decided to pay out deposits without requiring time notices. The rumor was subsequently denied by officers and trustees of several savings institutions. The question has been discussed, but the general sentiment seemed to be that to abolish the time notices would be an unwise step so long as any premium existed an unwise step so long as any premium existed an unwise step so long as any premium existed an unwise step so long as any premium existed an unwise step so long as any premium existed an unwise step so long as executed that the premium might the case to this office.

The directors of the Thurber-Whyland Company yesterday voted to pass the semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent on the preferred stock. President F. B. Thurber issued a strement explaining that the monetary stringency letates this action. The dividend is cumulative and can be paid when times improve. The stockholders are congratulated that the complay has, in most trying times, proved its ability to neet its obligations at maturity.

It was plain that he was not satisfied with the conduct of the police at some of these meetings, although he carefully refrained from criticising the action of the inspectors who took turns as acting superintenient in his absence. One of his first steps, after making inquiries about what had been done in the e, was to send out the following general police

"It would appear from the reports in the newspapers that unlawful speeches have been made at some of the meetings of the unemployed men in the city lately. I have no means at present of knowing that such speeches were reported correctly, but I may be in a position to know soon. If it is true that speakers have openly advised men at the meetings to go into shoe stores and take what shoes they needed, if they did not have money to may for them; or if they have declared that it we pay for them; or if they have declared that it was right to go into a bakery and take bread without paying for it, the speakers violated the law and "I do not care to speak about my intentions regarding any person," he replied, "but if that woman has used the language quoted in the newspapers she has violated the law and she should be punished. Unemployed men have the right to meet and discuss their grievances, and the police will protect them in that right at any cost. The law, however, is is plainly against any speeches of the kind alleged to have been made at some of the recent meetings. If I can find that the law has been violated it is my duty to try to have the guilty persons punished. I am going to try."

It was plain from the manner of the Superintendent that he was much in earnest and that he was ready to use the entire police force at a moment's notice in suppressing disorder in the city.

Superintendent Byrnes was asked about a report which had been published in his absence that Tammany leaders wanted him to retire from his office, and that he might be forced to retire if he did not make terms with them. He said in reply:

"I have seen the article referred to, but I have no personal knowledge on that subject. No person has a pproached me, either directly or indirectly, to seek to induce me to retire from the office I hold, and I have no intention of asking for retirement at present. I have no knowledge regarding the wishes of any politicians on the subject."

CLOSING DAYS AT CHAUTAUQUA.

DR. EDWARD EGGLESTON LECTURES ON RE-LIGIOUS LIPE BEFORE THE REVOLUTION.

Chautauqua, N. Y., Aug. 24 (Special).—The unfailing reaction which follows a day of unusual excitement is felt here to-day. A few people rested, while about the usual number bushed themselves in attending meetings. Yesterday people dropped their sports and joined in the Recognition jubilee. To-day they are found again on the lake, the tennis courts and the croquet grounds. The daily devotional meetings hold their own, proving that Chautauqua people in the midst of their recreations and studies are eminently religious. The meeting this morning was led by the Rev. B. H. Haying this morning was led by the Rev. B. H. Hayden. The Boys' Club is as busy as a beehive these closing days. Its youthful members in rowboats were carried down the lake to Pendergast Creek, where they held a picnic under the careful eyes of Dr. Anderson and Mr. Babbitt. The Boys' Congress as a closing session held a public meeting in the Hall at 19:30 this morning. Speaker E. J. Reddington was in the chair. "Annexation of Canada was the subject for consideration. Early last Monday mornies Corn, No 2 mixed Superintendent of Police Starkweather was informed Oats, No 2 mixed by one of the members of his detective force that a plot had been concocted by certain persons in the city to destroy the waterworks pumping station with dynamite. Then, with the water supply cut off, fires in several parts of the city were to be started. The fire department useless, a fearful catastrophe would fire department useless, a fearful catastrophe would result. The superintendent satisfied himself of the correctness of the story and a hurried consultation with the secretary of the Water Board resulted in a call for a special sessio, of the Water Board. Monday night was the time set to do the job, and all that night the works were guarded by a body of men with Winchesters. The dynamiters evidently had scouts out, and the extra men about the waterworks frightened them away. Special policemen are still on guard nights at the waterworks. It is said that the persons who figured as principals in the proposed plot are known to the police, and that arrests will follow.
